Lord, glorious in the council of Your saints, You are the boast of the Apostles, the joy of prophets, the support of martyrs, the gladness of venerable ascetics, and the crown of the Theotokos. Give us Your peace and love. Guide and guard our lives, that through the mercy of Your goodness, we may be made worthy to imitate their struggles, and pleasing You, to attain future happiness with them. For You bestow every eternal good gift, and we give glory to You, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto the ages of ages. Amen.

Ambon Prayer for Sunday of All Saints

[In the Kiev Monastery of the Caves] The three men walked on and were met by ever more new saints. The saints were not exactly moving or even speaking, but the silence and immobility of the dead were not absolute. There was, under the ground, a motion that was not completely usual, and a particular sort of voices rang out without disturbing the sternness and repose. The saints spoke using words from psalms and lines from the lives of the saints that Arseny remembered well from childhood. When they drew the candles closer, shadows shifted along dried faces and brown, half-bent hands. The saints seemed to raise their heads, smile, and beckon, barely perceptibly, with their hands. 'A city of saints,' whispered Ambrogio, following the play of the shadow. 'They present us the illusion of life.' 'No,' objected Arseny, also in a whisper. 'They disprove the illusion of death.'

from the 2012 novel 'Laurus / Лавр' by Evgeny Vodolazkin

The Peter and Paul (Apostles) Fast – begins this Sunday evening, 11 June and lasts until Wednesday, 28 June. The Typikon prescribes strict abstinence on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, with mitigated abstinence (Wine and Oil) on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The Ruthenian Metropolia has identified this period as a penitential season, a time when Eastern Christians traditionally celebrate the Mystery of Holy Confession. The Feast of Saints Peter and Paul is a holy day of obligation for us.

Next Sunday's Readings ~ 2nd Sunday after Pentecost

Matthew 4:18 – 23: *The Calling of Four Fishermen
