WHY THE LORD CHOSE FISHERMEN. CHROMATIUS: Here they proved that they were true sons of Abraham, because by a similar pattern they followed the Savior on hearing God's voice. For they immediately gave up hope of material advantage that they might seek eternal rewards. They left behind their earthly father that they might have a heavenly Father, and hence not undeservedly were they chosen. So the Lord chose fishermen who in a better way of plying their fishing trade were converted from earthly to heavenly fishing, that they might catch the human race for salvation like fish from the deep waters of error, according to what the Lord himself said to them: «Come after Me, and I will make you fishers of men.» It was the very same thing He had promised through Jeremiah the prophet: «Behold, I am sending for many fishers, says the Lord, and they shall catch them; and afterward I will send for many hunters and they shall hunt them.» So we see that the apostles are called not only fishermen but also hunters: fishermen, for in the nets of gospel preaching they catch all believers like fish in the world; hunters, for they catch for salvation by heavenly hunting those people who are roving in this world as though in the woods of error and who are living like wild animals. TRACTATE ON MATTHEW 16.2.

JESUS CHOOSES THEM FOR WHAT THEY CAN BECOME. ANONYMOUS: Before He says or does anything, He calls the apostles so nothing may be concealed from them as to Christ's words or works and they may later say in confidence: «For we cannot but speak of what we have seen and heard.» He sees them not bodily but spiritually, regarding not their appearance but their hearts. And He chooses them not as apostles but because they could become apostles. Just as an artist who sees precious, and not rough-hewn, stones chooses them—not because of what they are but because of what they can become. Like the sensitive artist who does not spurn the unshaped good—so too the Lord, upon seeing them, does not choose their works but their hearts. INCOMPLETE WORK ON MATTHEW, HOMILY 7.

Jesus Teaches, Preaches and Heals JESUS' HEALINGS PROPHESED. CHROMATIUS: Isaiah predicted this would happen when he said, «He Himself took our infirmities and bore our sickness.» To this end the teacher of life and heavenly physician Christ the Lord had come that by His direction He might educate people to life and with His heavenly medicine cure the sickness of body and soul, that He might free bodies beset by the devil and restore those persons afflicted by various infirmities to true and complete health. By the word of divine power He cured the weaknesses of the body, but by the medicine of heavenly teaching He healed the wounds of the soul. David clearly noted that the wounds of the soul are healed by God alone when he said, «Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits,» to which he added, «who forgives all your iniquity, who heals all your diseases.» He is the true and perfect physician therefore Who gives healing to the body and restores the soul to health: our Lord and Savior. TRACTATE ON MATTHEW 16.4.
