THE BEHEADING OF JOHN THE BAPTIST is always celebrated on August 29th at the close of our Church's ecclesiastical year. His conception is observed at the start of the new church year on September 23rd. Red vestments are worn on this day. By tradition a strict fast is observed. Local traditions also include such practices as not using knives, not eating food from a plate, or anything in the form of a head, e.g., cabbage, lettuce, apples, et cetera.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1st «HAPPY NEW YEAR 7531!» In the eastern Roman Empire, in the Greek or Constantinopolitan Indictions, the first day (of the new year) of the indiction year was established initially as September 23, the birthday of the Emperor Augustus. This date also became the start of the Eastern Orthodox Church year. But late in the 5th century, the start of the new year shifted to September 1, the present day beginning of our Church's liturgical year. In the west, in the Imperial or Western Indictions, September 24 was adopted as the start of the year, apparently based upon calculations of the Venerable Bede. In the 9th century, Roman or Pontifical Indictions were introduced in the west that began the year on either December 25 or January 1.

FOR THE NEW ACADEMIC YEAR! We thank God for the gift of intelligence, the capacity to know and understand the world, ourselves, and Him the «Creator of all things, visible and invisible». We also praise Him for the gift of faith, that grace that sanctifies and illuminates our mind so that we may know Him intimately, as a communion of Persons Who desire that we share in His divine Life and Love. With St. Augustine, let us say: «We who speak and you who listen acknowledge ourselves as fellow disciples of a single Teacher.» For Christ's Good News guides both teacher and student towards the objective truth which, in transcending the particular and the subjective, points to the universal and absolute that enables us to proclaim the hope that does not disappoint.

Pope Benedict XVI (adapted)
