Today Christ enters the Jordan to wash away the sin of the world. John himself testifies that this is why He has come: Behold the Lamb of God, behold Him who takes away the sins of the world. Today a servant lays his hand on the Lord, a man lays his hand on God, John lays his hand on Christ, not to forgive but to receive forgiveness. Today, as the psalmist prophesied: The voice of the Lord is heard above the waters. What does the voice say? This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. Today the Holy Spirit hovers over the waters in the likeness of a dove. A dove announced to Noah that the flood had disappeared from the earth; so now a dove is to reveal that the world's shipwreck is at an end forever. The sign is no longer an olive-shoot of the old stock: instead, the Spirit pours out on Christ's head the full richness of a new anointing by the Father, to fulfill what the psalmist had prophesied: Therefore God, your God, has anointed you with the oil of gladness above your fellows.

Excerpt from a sermon by Saint Peter Chrysologus, Bishop of Ravenna, Italy

Today Christ is baptized; He emerges from the waters and uplifts the world with Him. He beholds the opening of the heavens that Adam had closed for himself and his descendants. The Spirit testifies to His divine nature, for He is in accord with His own. A voice is heard from the heavens, giving witness to the One Who has descended; for He is the Savior of our souls.

Desiring to fulfill all that was ordained for You from eternity, O Lord, You received ministers from all creation at this mystery of Yours: Gabriel from among the angels, the Virgin from among the human race, the star from among the heavens, and the Jordan from among the waters; and in it You have cleansed the sins of the world. O our Savior, glory be to You!

When John, the bright lamp that was born of a barren mother, perceived that Christ, the Sun Who had risen from a virgin, was now asking for baptism, he cried out with joy: O Lord, sanctify me by Your Theophany.

As the prophet foretold, a great Light, Christ, has shone upon Galilee of the Gentiles, upon the land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephtali. A people living in darkness have seen a great light shining from Bethlehem. The Sun of Righteousness, the Lord born of Mary, casts His rays upon all those who dwell on earth. Come then, O naked children of Adam, and let us clothe ourselves in Him that we may warm ourselves. For the Light that no one can approach, the One Who is protection and a mantle for the naked, the Light to those in darkness, has appeared and revealed Himself today.

When the Forerunner saw the One Who is our enlightenment, the One Who has brought light to all, coming to be baptized, his heart rejoiced and his hand trembled. He pointed Him out to the people and said: This is the Savior of Israel Who delivered us from corruption. O Christ our God, O Sinless One, glory be to You!

luminary in the flesh and Forerunner of the Savior, O offspring of the barren one, O friend, by leaping in the womb, you adored the One Who is born of the Virgin; and you baptized Him in the waters of the Jordan. O prophet, we pray to you: Implore Him that we may escape the future torments.
